
The normality tests for continuous variables.