Introduction

Hello, my name is _____, I am from the National Institute for Medical Research/Mwanza Interventions Trial Unit. As you know, you have agreed to take part in the study we are currently conducting in Mwanza. Two years ago we asked you a number of questions about yourself, your household, your relationship and your community. We would now like to ask you some similar questions again. Some of the questions are sensitive, but everything that you say will be kept private, and will not be shared with others. I would like to encourage you to be honest, as there are no right or wrong answers. At any point you can stop the interview, or choose to not answer a question. This will not affect your further involvement in the study. If you find anything that we discuss upsetting, and would like to talk to someone afterwards, we can help with this.

The interview will take two hours or more to complete. For this it is best if we are not interrupted. Is this a good place to talk, or should we go somewhere else where we can talk privately?

Do you have any questions?

Survey of men

The aim of the MAISHA study is to explore ways to improve relationships, and health more generally. As you know, we have been working with groups of women receiving microfinance. Now we are interested in learning about men's views about healthy relationships. We are planning to conduct a short interview with the partners of women taking part in MAISHA. During the interview, we will ask the man questions about himself, his health and his personal experiences in relationships. We would like to know if you agree to your partner being contacted by a male member of the MAISHA team and invited to take part in the study. We will not contact him unless you agree. If you agree to us contacting your partner and then change your mind, that is fine – just call us on <NSERT NUMBER> to let us know.

If your partner consents to take part in the study, he will be asked to attend one interview which will be conducted in about one month from now at a time and place that is convenient for him. The interview will be conducted by a male interviewer and take about one hour.

If you wish, you can speak to your partner first about the study to find out if he would be interested in taking part and if he agrees to a member of the study team contacting him. Alternatively, if you are happy to give me your partner's mobile number and contact details, one of the male interviewers can contact your partner directly in about one month to arrange a time to meet to discuss the study. We will inform you just before we contact him in case you change your mind.
