

The Data Mining System performs feature selection, extracts the logic separation formulas and finally individuates the discriminat positions