

MEDICAL TOURISTS

- Vulnerabilities
- potential exposure to negative health outcomes due to surgery
 - bound by constraints imposed by going abroad for health care
 - limited codes of conduct and responsibility

- Contextual Factors
- lack of defined role obligations
 - lack of access to specific types of information

Social Responsibilities
- to home communities and health care systems

- expanded responsibilities through engagement with health care systems abroad

- must take steps before departure to minimize and mitigate harms to home community and community abroad

Vulnerabilities
- distanced from personal support networks

- potential exposure to instability while abroad

VOLUN- TOURISTS

- Resources
- professional codes of conduct and responsibility
 - specialized training

- Contextual Factors
- highly defined role obligations
 - easy access to information related to professional roles