

Connections

- Relationships with community
- Strengthened relationships within the team
- Open and respectful dialogue
- Development of trust and mutual understanding
- Increased credibility as an individual, organization and country
- A forum to discuss and solve common problems
- Understanding the needs of different populations

Learning

- Access to information beneficial to performing one's job
- Greater awareness of factors impacting health
- Better understanding of global health challenges
- Access to skills and knowledge not available otherwise
- Professional and personal development

Actions

- Capacity to respond to new and emerging issues
- Improved organizational innovation and management
- Improved disease management
- Improved financial management
- Improved human resource development
- Improved human resource management
- Improved patient-provider relationships
- Efficient and effective health care practices
- Ability to achieve organizational objectives
- Creative innovation and product development
- Ability to integrate health systems structures
- Improved resource and waste management
- Ability to do one's job better