swallows tea by spoonfulls strucks out the tongue upon demands tries to stop dental care of the nurse with the right (hemiplegic) arm, starts to talk to herself for hours, embraces the nurse opens eyes upon demand and in the requested direction, holds the hands of grandchildren with the hand of the (hemiplegic) right side, seems not to recognise them opens eyes and turns head towards people entering the room, the yellowish complexion of the face turns rosy opens eyes first time since three months

