

Supplementary Material – Document 2

Electropherograms from “Results and Discussion - 3.3 DNA analysis”

The STR-profiles were generated from A) the sample well and B) the sample-buffer-solution. The swabs contained a mixture of menstrual fluid and semen, which is represented in the electropherograms with a female and a male component. No significant differences in peak height or quality of the profiles results from the two collection methods.

